

Customized new product launch seminar

Image-text: Wang Qiuna of Design Department

In order to promote the further cooperation between our company and customers, strive for excellence in products, customers came from Beijing on September 13th and visited our Heyuan factory with Mr. Hao to conduct technical exchanges and discussions about product upgrades and exchange test cases. The general manager and engineer of the client, Mr. Hao, the general manager of our company, Su Hui, the operation manager, Hao Xiujun, the purchasing director, Ye Jinxiang, the electronic engineer, and Li Yufeng, the structural engineer, attended the meeting.

At the seminar, the customer expressed satisfaction with our current products, and proposed that the new product adds items to the product functions. Our engineers will provide the best possible improvement and cooperation to these suggestions of the customer. The customer raised the issue of new product lead time and gave a reasonable explanation of the future development and market layout of the new product. Mr. Hao of our company gave a reasonable solution to the customer's product improvement and expressed that will provide strong support and cooperation to customers market layout. Both parties are full of confidence in this cooperation.

At the meeting, customers and our company not only conducted research and discussion on new products, but also had an in-depth understanding of our thermal imaging temperature measurement WTMD. Our engineers gave technical explanations and case applications on the thermal imaging temperature measurement WTMD, which will make customers have confidence in our innovative technology. Finally, a consensus on cooperation was reached on the thermal imaging security gate.

After the meeting, the customer visited our Heyuan factory whole, and showed that very few companies can do such a meticulous layout of our exhibition hall, not only displaying the products, but also opening up the internal structure of the products. The security inspection solution already achieved the ultimate. Customers feel at ease with our products, indicating that our company can do bigger, better, and go further in the industry.

Although this new product seminar was only a few hours, it brought us confidence. Although we encountered a lot of difficulties in every product upgrade, we still made breakthroughs every time. We firmly believe that our ZhongAnXie can maintain innovation in production upgrading, and believe that we can produce the products that are more in line with the market.

The 5th Shenzhen International Uav Exhibition and Civil Aviation Security Exhibition The temperature gate of Zhonganxie become hot product.

Image-text: Publicity Team

The 5th Shenzhen International Uav Exhibition and Civil Aviation Security Exhibition opened in Shenzhen Convention and Exhibition Center (Futian) On The 13th and ended successfully on the 15th.During the three days of the exhibition, zhonganxie has won the support of customers and leaders, and sent more new and old customers and leaders to visit the booth and guide the work, which has promoted the development of ZhonganXieIn this exhibition, Zhonganxie exhibited its strength technology products and new technology products, among which the new research and development achievements of thermal imaging face temperature measurement and security gate became a major highlight of this exhibition!

temperature immediately after passing through. Human body temperature measurement distance: 1 meter to 5 meters, temperature accuracy: $\pm 0.3^{\circ}\text{C}$, the target temperature is $30^{\circ}\text{C}-50^{\circ}\text{C}$. It is an important tool for rapid human body temperature screening. The rapid screening of warmth that has been applied to epidemic prevention work has brought great help to epidemic prevention work!

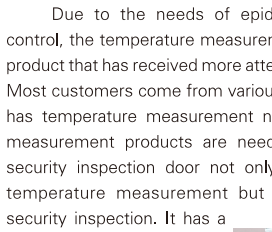

The thermal imaging face temperature measurement security gate has received enthusiastic attention from new and old customers at the exhibition, and they all believe that this product has a rapid and accurate effect on human body temperature screening. According to statistics, a large number of customers have installed thermal image facial temperature measurement security doors at the exhibition. So far, the factory is still arranging orders for production, and the market demand is huge. At the exhibition, another product also quietly became popular, that is, the temperature measuring box

"Smart-Z". This product has a high cost performance and economic efficiency, so it is purchased and used by a large number of customers and the market demand is also extremely huge.

Due to the needs of epidemic prevention and control, the temperature measurement security door is a product that has received more attention at this exhibition. Most customers come from various fields, and each field has temperature measurement needs, so temperature measurement products are needed. The temperature security inspection door not only has the function of temperature measurement security inspection. It has a double prevention function when used, and is more valuable than a single temperature measurement.

In addition, the portable security door has also received a lot of inquiries from customers. Unlike previous exhibitions, they all require a temperature measurement function on the security door. Zhonganxie rely on advanced, stable and mature temperature measurement technology to help customers to realize one by one. Many customers are also customizing such products, and they are selling them all over the world. Because the global demand is very large, we hope that these high-tech products can be used in epidemic prevention work as soon as possible.

At the moment of the epidemic, if more advanced epidemic prevention products are available on the market, the epidemic prevention work will be easier to carry out, which will bring greater help to the epidemic prevention and control, which will help to end the epidemic faster. The development of this exhibition is making those People who need advanced equipment to join the epidemic prevention work understand and use Zhonganxie products! Zhonganxie will continue to move forward, develop higher-end technologies and products for the market, and let technology help us create a beautiful and harmonious home!

College Graduates Field Recruitment Field Notes

Graphic: Lu Zhenzhen, Administration Department

In September, the company was in urgent need of staff due to business expansion. In order to better serve customers, the human resources department of the company has carried out-going recruitment in the talent market for many times.

Affected by the epidemic, many enterprises report that it is difficult to recruit workers this year. Similarly, our company has encountered the same problem. Although, we used a lot of methods. For example, poster, network recruitment, etc., to increase the recruitment efforts than before, the use of more channels. Still did not have what harvest, the company and urgent lack of talent, in the helpless, we received the source city district employment targeted poverty alleviation and college graduates on-site recruitment invitation, at this time we are ecstatic, hurriedly prepare materials, posters, waiting for the arrival of the job fair.

On September 11th, a job fair held at Jianji, and other job fair held at Putian Town. At this time our personnel director, decided to two ways at the same time, with the operations department of the little sister, we went to different places. All preparations were made.

The scene of talent recruitment ushered in the land and land people looking for work, some are nearby residents, some are college graduates, some are nearby factory employees.Many people came to consult us even though it was raining heavily. We patiently explained the company's welfare, remuneration, environment and corporate culture. We've also run out of prepared announcements. Because it was A Friday night and no one wanted to come in for an interview, But On Monday, the human resources department was getting a lot of calls. In just a few days, there were more than 10 employees who came to interview, and 6 employees successfully entered the company. They were excellent employees.

Thank the government of Yuancheng District of Heyuan City for providing us with a talent recruitment platform. Although there is still a big gap in our recruitment plan, it also makes us more motivated and more confident in the follow-up work.

Romantic Cherry Blossom" Shake It Up

Graphic: Yang Ying, International Sales Department

Welcome to Mid-Autumn festival and celebrate National Day themed get-together. The opening dance is "Romantic Cherry blossom" dance brought by my colleagues in the sales department.The melody of the dance is lively and the atmosphere is romantic and beautiful. Full of youthful atmosphere, square dance can be called the originator. To jump with special gaiety and joy. It can be a challenge for people who don't have the basics of dance.

Starting from about the beginning of September, during the intervals between lunch and dinner every day, we were began to practice, correct each other's mistakes and correct their movements and hand positions. With the music and beat, over and over and over again. From the beginning of the unskilled movement, the movement is not standard, can not keep

Because of the standardization and persistence of the practice, we finally won the praise of leaders and warm applause from colleagues at the party. Also because of the dance performance, we more firmly believe: nothing can not be done, only don't want to finish the people. Many things, the real thing in the people. As long as we keep our goal, keep an optimistic attitude and find the right method, we will certainly succeed.

Zhongganxie participated in the 11th China International Anti-Terrorism and Anti-riot Technology Seminar

On September 13th, the 11th China International anti-terrorism and explosion-proof technology seminar was grandly held in international wine of Shenhong by the public security magazine of china and the security industry association of shenzhen. There are Gaozhenru who worked in army engineering university, Eddie Watson who is the institute of public safety and law of australia chairman, Lixiaoyu who is senior public security department sheriff of heilongjiang province, Caiwenji who is public security bureau of xinjiang civil aviation administration. More than 10 security guards including xuminxiao from Jiangsu police academy anti-terrorist technical experts and front-line police made a presentation on the forum to jointly discuss the development of anti-terrorism security inspection and anti-riot technology.

Caiwenji who is the Public Security Bureau of xinjiang civil aviation administration said that airport security has changed from a single detection to multiple detection, and now it has reached the number of detection items that cannot be added to the security check, indicating that the security check is an anti-terrorism prevention technology that is constantly being improved. It also shows that the security department attaches great importance to prevention.

Zhangguoqing who worked in public security detachment of the Guangzhou municipal public security bureau said that during the period of COVID-19 prevention and control, the front-line personnel experienced hardships because their preventive equipment could not keep up, but because they were inaccurate with advanced technical preventive equipment, enterprises were required to use the technology for free. Put the advanced equipment on the front line for the staff to use first, let them make full use and understand the fast and effective of advanced equipment before doing market promotion will make it easier to popularize these advanced equipment.

In addition, many experts mentioned that prevention is the most important part of anti-terrorism and riot prevention, and happens is the most important. Therefore, security checks are the most important part of anti-terrorism and riot prevention. How to do a good job of security inspection is worthy of in-depth discussion and research. I also hope that more advanced technologies will be applied to the front line of anti-terrorism and riot control.

There are also many front line policemen who have mentioned the problems of backward equipment and insufficient budget in the actual anti-terrorism and anti-riot work. This is a pain point for better work on the front line! It also illustrates that many equipment technologies have been upgraded to a new level, and the equipment they use is still relatively backward equipment.

In response to the above problems, Zhongganxie has always been thinking of ways to meet the requirements. It has successively donated human body temperature measurement security gates to front-line epidemic prevention staff from february of this year. It helps medical staff to quickly perform body temperature screening, which is faster than using traditional temperature measurement equipment to detect body temperature. In every upgrade of technology, a comprehensive price survey is done, and the price is strictly controlled to the extent that the first-line can be afforded and used, so that front-line staff can not only use advanced technology of security products, but also the price is relatively low. Such as the 240 series metal detection security gate which is the lowest price can be control it below 1,000 yuan.

As the governing unit of Shenzhen security industry association, Zhongganxie participates in anti-terrorism and explosion-proof technology seminars to keep the technology updated and meet the needs of front-line anti-terrorism and explosion-proof work at every year. Through this participation in "The 11th China International Anti-Terrorism and Anti-riot Technology Seminar" is of great significance to zhongganxie's research and development of anti-terrorism and anti-riot security technology.

Respect and observe discipline, treat life kindly

Graphic: Zhangyanmei General Manager's Office

The double festival of mid-Autumn festival and national day are coming. The company of zhongganxie has increased its efforts in production safety publicity, education and inspections, continuously enhanced employees' awareness of safety production and earnestly performed the "double festivals" safety production work to ensure the company's safe production. Through the practice of "two sections" safety production work. Let us further understand the important meaning of "safe production, everyone is responsible".

What is security? Safety is caring for and protecting people's lives from harm. Security is a kind of dignity. It is both respect for others and respect for oneself. Security is a civilization, the progress of the times, the development of society and the improvement of the overall quality of people. Safety is the harbor of happiness in life. Only with safety will be joy and warmth and have a beautiful life.

Safety is such a beautiful word, just like warmth, it makes people feel cordial and practical. However, in real life, many shocking accidents often occur. There are objective reasons for accidents, but more are caused by man-made reasons. The failure to pay attention to safety publicity, production safety and operation safety has caused many lives of happy families to suffer misfortune.

What does safety depend on? Safety depends on a sense of responsibility. Every minute and every second of work, Potential safety hazards may open their mouths like a cruel beast at any time, staring at our fragile flesh and paralyzing our nerves. The safety can be guaranteed and life can be beautiful by enhancing the sense of responsibility.

Therefore, keeping safety in our hearts is a sacred duty that we must uphold. Keep safety in our hearts and tighten the string of safety at all times, so that safety production, safety management, and safety work can be practically implemented, starting from the small things around us and eliminating all hidden dangers before they may emerge. Let our production, operation and various work be in a safe environment, so that our lives are filled with more smiles and joy.

For safe production, we should eliminate the misconception that safety and production are equal and opposite. Safety is more important than production. As employees of the company, especially those on the front line of production, we should know that our production is related to the lifeblood of national construction, the survival of the company, a happy family and the lives of employees. Therefore, production cannot be missed because of safety, safety is missing because of production. Production and safety are equally important to us, to our country, business, family, and individual. The stagnation of production caused by safety is an irreparable loss for the company, and the safety problems caused by production are for our company, our family, and all of us. It's terrible for the people.

Safety is a simple wish in my heart, To do well in safety, safety is necessary for production. In addition to operating in strict accordance with various safety operating regulations, the most important thing is to control yourself. Accidents often come to the door when they are distracted at work, thinking about slack, or operating in violation of regulations. In the event of an accident, not to mention the damage to the company, you will suffer from skin and flesh, or lack of arms or legs, and even your life will be lost. Your family will have to bear the pain and misfortune for you. Life is beautiful and family is warm. Why pay such a painful price for a momentary mistake or a difference in thought? To this end, I must repeat the sentence: If you cherish your life, please control yourself.

Safety responsibility is more important than taishan mountain! This responsibility is not only related to our company, but also closely related to ourselves! We need to know that the company do not talk about development and our personal survival without security. Where does our future and happiness come from without security? For our country, for our company, for our family, and for ourselves, please firmly establish your safety mindset. We believe that everyone loves their jobs, works, and loyally performs their duties, and firmly establishes safety awareness. We will be able to maintain our safety and ensure safe production.

Ingenuity-Outstanding

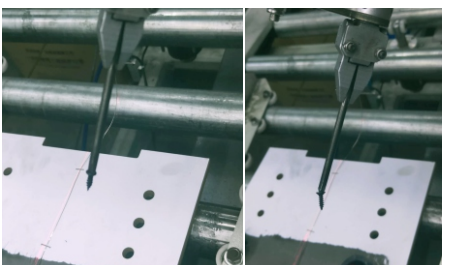

Record the automatic screw machine: the improvement of screw

The birth of the automatic production line has an extraordinary mission: 150 sets of Nissan door panels, from infrared positioning to inner and outer door panel closing, all in one go. Eight processes are concentrated on a production line of less than 50 meters. The degree of automation has increased, and the process flow is simple and clear, the production efficiency has been greatly improved, and the manpower has been reduced from 37 to 17 people. Everything is flaunting its extraordinary.

However, the birth of any new thing must have experienced the baptism of wind and rain, and the automatic line is no exception.

Calculated based on the production capacity of 150 sets/day, it means that the standard working hours of the first station: 2Min/pcs. The whole door panel needs to be driven with 60 screws, and the time for each screw to be fixed is only 2s. It can be completed under ideal conditions.

1mm solid graphite, 3mm fireproof paint layer, use ordinary 3*10 screws (multiple tooth patterns, blunt nail tips, shallow cross grooves on the umbrella handle): First. The screw does not fit well with the electric screw, and the screws need to be renewed Adjust the direction. Second. The screw characteristics require a lot of force to penetrate the fireproof layer. The screw amount to complete a board is about 4-6min. At the same time, employees will feel pain and weakness in their shoulders and palms after working for an hour. For a period of time. This job has become tasteless and no one cares.

Ingenuity-reform is imperative.

The cross groove is shallow, matching the long cross ϕ 4 shallow screwdriver head. The customized standard: after the screw falls on the screwdriver, the angle with the plane is $<5^\circ$, the size of the cross umbrella handle, and the height must be consistent with the height of the automatic feeder pressing screw and the transportation air pipe and the diameter of the electric batch nozzle. I have found several suppliers during the customization process, and the overall quality of the samples is uneven: the main manifestations are: First, different batch handle sizes. Second, different batch head angles, and the effect is not very ideal. Persevere in everything, the result is bound to be good: a machining center, with advanced machinery and equipment, superb professional level, after repeated improvements, finally can reach the accuracy of 98% of the screw cross groove and the screwdriver head. How to save effort to overcome the fireproof paint layer.

The key of screw improvement are tooth lines and blunt tips According to different categories, the supplier provides four kinds of samples for testing: First, Fast tooth blunt tip. Second, Fine tooth blunt tip. Third, Fast tooth tip. Fourth, The packing of tooth tip is 100pcs, and the nailing test under of the same condition is carried out: Among them, the fast tooth tip has a performance stability of 99%, which is a positive qualification for the sample. The fly in the ointment is that this batch of samples is made with negative quadrant tolerance, and many screws are not fixed strongly (the plate is too shallow and easy to fall off). Everything must be perfect. When the second batch of positive tolerance screws comes out: all the shortcomings are overcome, and the following are: First, Stable discharge. Second Locking screws save effort. Reduced from 4-6min before improvement to 2-2.5min, manpower fatigue is reduced by 99%. Step by step towards success.

Supported by a noble purpose, keep working. Even if it is slow, it will be successful. -- Einstein

Change channel

One day, a drunk man swayed into the business hall, sat on a chair and looked at the constantly rolling fund quotation sheet for a few minutes, and then said dissatisfiedly to our lobby manager: "It's not good, change the channel!" The business hall burst into laughter.

Three different wishes

Someday! A ferry sank in the sea due to a storm! Only three survived! They are a successful businessman, a teenager, and a tramp! A month later, the boy fished from the sea. He lighted up a magic lamp, wiped it, and suddenly an elf ran out and asked each of them to make a wish. The businessman cares about his career. He said: I want to return to my company to make money. The elf nodded and shouted, the businessman disappeared; the boy missed his family very much, so he said: I want to go home, the elf nodded again. With a cry, the boy was gone. The elf asked the tramp: What about you, what do you wish to make? The tramp thought for a while and said: Well-I don't know what I want, but it's boring to be alone here. Well-Sell them two to accompany me, so he shouted again, businessman and boy It's back again.

Meet the police after drinking

A few days ago I had a dinner together with a few friends, in the end I drank too much and quietly. When I was out of the restaurant for drinks, I was leaning on a car on the side of the road when a policeman came. "No parking here, this is a no-parking zone!" He waved his hand because he was a little uncomfortable after drinking too much. "What's the matter? Drinking?" He took out the  and called the trailer. Seeing the car being dragged farther and farther. "There is something wrong! The car is not mine, how can I drive-!"

Small stories

Tortoise and eagle

The tortoise saw the eagle flying in the sky and asked the eagle to teach him how to fly. Eagle advised him that he could not fly. But the tortoise pleaded again and again, and the eagle grabbed him, flew high, and then released him. The tortoise fell on the rock and was smashed to pieces. This story shows that those who are so lofty and unrealistic are bound to fail.

Mule

The mule that grew up eating barley is very strong. Whenever he jumped, he always said to himself: "My father must be a good running horse. I am very like him." One day, the child had to be dragged to run around when he returned, he thought with a sad face that his father was a donkey. This story shows that if people are famous for good luck, they must not forget their own nature, because life is like ebb and flow, and the future is unpredictable.

The lion and the mouse

The lion fell asleep, and a mouse jumped on him. The lion stood up suddenly to grabbed him, and prepared to eat it. The mouse begged for mercy and said that if he saved his life, he would repay his favor, and the lion smiled contemptuously. After smiling, then he let him go. Soon, the lion was really saved by the mouse. It turned out that the lion was captured by a hunter and tied him to a tree with ropes. The mouse heard his wailing and walked over to break the rope. Let go of the lion and said: "You laughed at me at the time and didn't believe that you could get my reward. Now it is clear that the mouse can also repay the favor." This story shows that fortunes alternate to change, the strong will also need the help of weak.

He is worth remembering in zhongganxie

Graphic: Xutingting Finance Department

The Mid-Autumn Festival will be celebrated on September 26, 2020, and the celebration of National Day will be successfully concluded. I have received honors, blessings, bonuses and joy.

In the game session, I entered the top three, but the game rule is that the last two wins. Although I missed the gift, I think the focus is on participating. When I was eliminated and got the penalty note, I understood that just the host said, it was for me and suitable for me. Everything is the best arrangement. What I have drawn is: Why do you still have to tell someone or something worth remembering in Zhongganxie? Although I missed the first two, it gave me an opportunity to speak, and gave me an opportunity to be grateful and express. Is it the best arrangement? The person who is worth of remembering in Zhongganxie. Of course he is our patriarch of Mr.Hao.

Show great foresight
2020 is a year of disasters for the world, and the new coronavirus pneumonia spreads globally. During the spring festival season in China, we don't know how serious the

Mr. Hao not only was willing to spend money for employees, but also actively responded to the poverty alleviation activities in guangdong province, and jointly built a harmonious society and donated RMB 30,000 to give back to the society and donate infrared temperature measuring doors, and put them in public places of various business units by fulfilling corporate responsibility for the country and society.

During the epidemic, the amount of overproduction awards amounted to more than 200,000 yuan, 30,000 yuan was donated for poverty alleviation, and the products worth of anti-epidemic more than 320,000 yuan. Think about it at this time that many companies have not yet started: some are bankrupt, some are heavily indebted; and Mr. Hao of zhongganxie is willing to give back more than 550,000 yuan to employees and society. He will always have a willing heart and a sense of social responsibility.

Both spiritual encouragement and material rewards are necessary, and both are indispensable.

Focus on the growth of team

The development of an enterprise requires continuous progress, and Mr. Hao pays special attention to team building.

On June 8, 2020, emergency CPR training was carried out at the factory which enhanced employees' awareness of safe production and response to emergencies, and the overall improvement of overall quality is of great significance to the safe production of factory.

On June 20, 2020, a two-day and one-night military town team is beginning, gather together and create brilliant.

The iron guys who were so touched by themselves that they cried and turned into tears, the eyes of those iron men who did not easily shed tears were also moist, the voice of not giving up and not abandoning among colleagues, the sound of forcefully tearing the whole valley sounded. We use our sincere heart and action to tell everyone, "We are a family, a family that loves each other." This is the power of the team, far beyond your imagination!

Mr. Hao gave everyone a pleasant surprise. It is a family letter written to every family member of zhongganxie. It carries Mr. Hao's trust in all the family members and recognition of everyone's work, and continue to work hard for a better tomorrow for Zhongganxie. Struggle! Mr. Hao issued honor awards and blessings to all of our teams. The thick pile of bonuses is not only money, but is spiritual food. It reflects our enthusiasm for the event, the strength of team building, the ideal of the future, and more importantly, Mr. Hao's recognition of our activities and work. Let us say something to Mr. Hao in our hearts: "Thank you for coming, you have worked hard! I am grateful for the company's love to every family member, and I believe that we will work harder!"

Continuous progress and growth
Automated production went online on June 25,

2020. The use of high technology has truly increased the output of products and ensured the quality of products. It has eliminated the undesirable factors caused by manual self-manufacturing, and achieved unprecedented equipment-based. The man-assisted manufacturing concept maximizes production efficiency and provides customers with high-quality products.

On June 30, 2020, the head office of shenzhen hired legal consultants to organize the knowledge training of law and regulation for employees in shenzhen and heyuan. Encouraging all employees to strengthen their legal knowledge and learning can improve their awareness of legal. The law can protect us and regulate our behavior. Abide by the company's rules and regulations to avoid mistakes at work, and take up the weapon of law to protect the interests of the company. Huang, gambling and drugs must not be touched, so that protect ourself and our family.

In July, caring for the health of the workers. The administrative department cooks "Jieshu Mung Bean Soup" three times a week and sends it to the production line. The sweetness is in everyone's heart.

In July, the live broadcast of the official douyin platform was launched. Through the most popular of online platform, everyone has more channels to learn about our zhongganxie.

In July, we organized employees to conduct fire drills: fire fighting loves you and me, and fire prevention depends on everyone!

In July, all employees of heyuan carried out annual physical examination activities: health is the greatest wealth in life.

In August, we upgraded our products and participated in the technology exchange seminar of shenzhen. Participated in the 360 wisdom high enterprise conference.

In August, we gain more channels for market development and promote the development of the company.

In September, we held birthday parties for employees who had birthdays that month in both shenzhen and heyuan.

In September, all employees of zhongganxie held a event of "welcome the mid-autumn festival-celebrate national day" at the factory of heyuan.

2020 is a year with many disasters. In such a difficult year, our company can still give everyone the opportunity to grow. It is really rare. We are grateful for the development platform that zhongganxie has given us, we are grateful that Mr. Hao always has a pair of wise eyes and

The product was upgraded again to satisfy customers

Zhongganxie is an innovative and pioneering enterprise. The products are diversified with perfect functions and novel styles. The four-in-one product recently developed by the security gate has multiple functions such as metal detection, computer networking, mobile APP, and bluetooth remote control.

In August, we received an order for a large-scale rail security gate, and the customer made a custom request: our company's standard products are computer networking and mobile phone APP, choose one of the two; mobile phone APP and bluetooth remote control, choose one of the two, the security gate only realizes one of the functions. Now the customer requires all three functions to be integrated into one security gate, which brings new challenges to our company's technology.

From the moment we received the customer's request, our colleagues and engineering went all out to break through the initial design of the product. Re-set the product's functions according to the customer's requirements, and performed simultaneous testing and verification. Even though there were many setbacks, finally a satisfactory result was achieved.

When the sales staff sent the video of the product that realized the brand-new function to the customer, it was highly praised by the customer. We can innovate and upgrade the functions of a product in such a short period of time, and get customers' approval. This a caring heart.

The company has (four) major events in 2019: First. The head office of shenzhen is established in the "Hullong Center" of Shenzhen North Railway Station (self-purchased office building).

Second. The factory expanded production and moved to heyuan, achieving the largest production scale in the industry, with an annual output of about 40,000 to 60,000 sets of security gates (enjoying the rich conditions for investment promotion given by the heyuan government)

Third. The incident of janny which about a former sales employee of the international department.

Fourth. Shenzhen Security Expo at the end of October: The creator of zhongganxie black technology (splcing technology security gate) won "the innovation equipment-based" top 100 enterprise award" is reform and innovation, dare to think and dare to take the first step...

Foreword

On June 1, 2019, it entered the office of HBC hullong

Center in north railway station of shenzhen. This is a milestone in the development of zhongganxie. The north railway station of shenzhen is connected to the national high-speed rail network hub and can quickly reach any area of the country by high-speed rail.

With the rapid development of the company, Zhongganxie made a clear choice and moved to heyuan by established a factory with an area of up to 13,000 square meters. This can ease the production workshop, which can effectively guarantee the orderly production and delivery of orders.

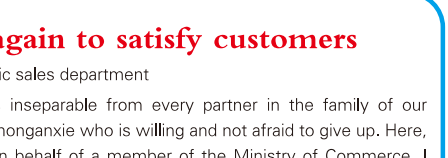

In the Janny incident, the employee took advantage of his position to embezzle the company's property, defraud customers' money by causing the company to suffer financial and reputation losses. But Mr. Hao protects the interests of customers. He prefers to bear all the losses of his own customers (the amount involved is more than one million yuan). Because of this responsibility, customers who have suffered a lot of losses are willing to cooperate in depth again and give us great support. This is an encouragement and affirmation of zhongganxie, and it is also the strength of our zhongganxie that will continue to live.

Of course, we must be prepared for danger in times of peace. Where there are deficiencies in zhongganxie, with the progress of the times, customers have higher and higher product requirements. We need to improve quality and develop new products. Because of the shortcomings, this is room for improvement. This is also an opportunity.

Under the leadership of such a boss who has vision, willingness, focus on team growth, and wisdom, we are blessed and confident, and wish zhongganxie better and better.

When the sales staff sent the video of the product that realized the brand-new function to the customer, it was highly praised by the customer. We can innovate and upgrade the functions of a product in such a short period of time, and get customers' approval. This
